

Programme in Technical and Operational Surface Mining Excellence

Get Ahead!

17-21 August 2026 | 5 Days Online Course
FLEXIBLE OPTIONS TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS

We make it easy to bring this expertise to your doorstep. Choose what works best:

5 CPD Points Available!

COURSE OUTLINE

1: The curriculum typically covers several key modules:

Surface Mining Methods:

- Selection of mining methods based on geology and ore bodies.

Mine Planning and Design:

- Pit optimization, waste dump design, and long-term versus short-term planning.

Drilling and Blasting:

- Optimizing fragmentation and managing explosives.

Loading and Hauling:

- Equipment selection, truck-and-shovel operations, and maintenance strategies.

Mineral Resource Management:

- Understanding the geology and grade control.

Safety, Health, and Environment (SHE):

- Hazard identification and environmental impact management.

Mining Economics:

- Costing, CAPEX/OPEX, and financial sustainability of the mine.

Course Overview

This programme focuses on the entire value chain of surface mining operations. It bridges the gap between theoretical mining engineering and practical, on-the-ground management. The goal is to equip participants with the skills to optimize mining processes, improve safety, and ensure the economic viability of a surface mine. It covers everything from initial exploration and pit design to reclamation and closure.

Who Should Attend

The course is tailored for professionals working within or transitioning into the surface mining sector, including:

- Mining Engineers and Technologists:
- Seeking to update their technical knowledge.
- Mine Managers and Pit Superintendents:
- Responsible for daily operational excellence.
- Technical Personnel:
- Involved in mine planning, drilling, and blasting.
- Operational Staff: Supervisors looking to move into management roles.
- Suppliers and Consultants:
- Professionals providing equipment or services to the surface mining industry

Course Benefits:

1. Operational Efficiency:

- Learn how to optimize load-and-haul cycles and equipment utilization.
- Cost Management: Gain insights into reducing operational costs through better technical planning.
- Safety and Compliance:
- Understand the latest safety standards and environmental regulations.

2. Strategic Decision Making:

Improve the ability to make data-driven decisions regarding mine design and equipment selection.

3. Networking:

Opportunities to interact with industry experts and peers
